VOLUME XXI. NUMBER 13.

IRONTON, MO.,
THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1887.

The "Local Option" contest is the absorbing theme now over in Madison county. We are told that the indications are very strong that the Madisonites will adopt the new experiment.

The New Madrid Record editor did say a short time since: "The editor of the IRON COUNTY REGISTER did, last week, fairly Ake to crack a joke." To which we respond, Wright you are!—and "cheesnuts" are even.

We are told that Judge Fox is conducting himself in a model way since the late unpleasantness. The Judge is a most admirable man when he takes care of himself, and we have faith that he will hereafter be equal to the occasion.

St. Louis Correspondent.

G. A. R.

Ed. Register—It is most certain that your many readers will be greatly interested in the all-absorbing topic of city and nation. It is said that the railroad brought 133,000 people into the city. Of that number, probably one-half were G. A. R. boys. The city had made wonderful provisions for their entertainment and pleasure. $100,000 had been raised by the city for this purpose. To this sum all politics, religion, creeds and nationalities contributed. The men who "fought and died" for the S. C. A. did as nobly as any. Beside this large fund, small bodies and associations of men raised an individual fund. The city was profusely decorated with bunting, flags, mottoes and transparencies of a costly character. Most of the parks of the city were turned into military camps, and the sunrise saluted with the booming cannon.

Tuesday was to have been the great day of parade, in which it was thought 70,000 men would have been in line. But to the great disappointment of soldiers and citizens it rained a heavy drizzle all day. The parade was postponed until Wednesday. Tuesday night the Board of Trade hall was packed with G. A. R. officers and men and citizens, male and female.

The Mayor of the city made a speech of welcome, which was loudly applauded by all people, both citizens and strangers, G. A. R. and S. C. A. This fine speech of Mayor Francis was responded to by Commander-in-Chief Fairchild in the same happy and eloquent manner in which the welcome was given. The Commander-in-Chief assured the people that the G. A. R. had the most kindly feeling for all the friends of our common country. They only fought in the late war because they loved the country more than those who rose against it. He said the G. A. R. had no "bloody shirt" to wave. The masses called for "Uncle Billy." Guy Oglesby was introduced and made a fine speech. The cry was then renewed for "Uncle Billy," "Old Commander," "Sherman," &c., &c. The cry was so deafening that Gen. Sherman had to surrender and come to the stand. His speech was like "Uncle Billy,"—Gen. Sherman—full of sense, good feeling and patriotism. Others were called out till 10:30, when the vast audience left for home full of the enthusiasm of 1861-5.

It was announced, however, that the parade would occur on Wednesday A. M., "rain or shine." It did not shine—rained worse than the day before. But the G. A. R. was out, and about one-third in line. The rest on the street, on sidewalks and in windows. There were, probably, 12,500 in line, with banner, rifle and drum. The entire line was viewed by an anxious throng of men, women and children, and babies even, and not a soul would leave till they had seen the parade, though the rain came down in torrents. It was said to be the grandest parade St. Louis ever saw, both as to number and enthusiasm. It was the largest line of old soldiers seen since the grand parade at Washington, D. C., at the close of the war. It is not probable there will be such a one again.

All the Posts of the city have done nobly in trying to make the stay of the G. A. R. boys as pleasant in the city as possible. Ransom Post spread a lunch three times a day, and probably had from 8,000 to 10,000 people—G. A. R. boys, their wives, mothers and daughters and friends. Ransom Post will be remembered for her wonderful provision for the comfort of the G. A. R. boys. California G. A. R. brought about forty tons of choice fruits which they exhibited and then gave away. The sight was simply astounding. We cannot do justice to this wonderful gathering in St. Louis of the G. A. R. It is to be hoped as this army of veterans pass away, as they are doing, that there will be no further use for war and bloodshed in our broad and happy country. We should now all try to bring the people and the nations to Christ and then war will be no more. St. Louis, Sept. 29, 1887.

Clones.

Ed. Register—Having been very busy engaged for the past two months, I have failed to come to time with my communication from this point.

The farmers are principally all done sowing wheat; and, so far as I have observed, there has been quite a large acreage sown; perhaps greater than last year.

As diphtheria is at this point very prevalent in many districts, and quite a detriment to the success of many schools therein, I give the following treatment: Every hour the patient should take a tablespoon full of a solution of benzoate of sodium, fifteen grains to the ounce of water, and at the same time one-sixth of a grain of sulphide of calcium in syrup for granule. In addition to this, the throat should be thoroughly sprayed every half-hour with a ten per cent. solution of benzoate of sodium. This should be done at regular intervals, day and night, but no other local treatment need be employed. Tonics should be given and antipyretics used when occasion calls for them. The nourishment should consist of beef juice; tender meat, milk, etc., but bread and all other articles which may cause irritation of the throat should not be used.

Friday last, I made a trip to Ironton, and along the road I observed that the corn-crops are not good. Mr. A. J. Carty has the best crop I noticed, which will, perhaps, yield not less than thirty-five bushels per acre.

With this exception, I saw no crop that will yield greater than—I believe I will be safe in saying—60 per cent. of our ordinary yield. This, with the almost complete failure of last year's crop, will make very hard times on the farmers, and will necessarily hold the price of corn at not less than 50 cents per bushel.

I noticed that the schools along the road are all in working order. The school on Imboden Fork of Black River is taught by Mr. Harry Padfield, who is a very intelligent young man, and has had some experience in teaching. I was informed by one of the patrons that Mr. P. is doing an excellent work in that district. Farther on the road I found Mr. Thomas Wilson engaged teaching the youth of Gaston district how to shoot their ideas. Being in a hurry, I did not stop; and having no chance to inquire relative to the school's progress, I can give nothing as to results.

Reaching Ironton just as the setting sun had thrown its latest rays over the valley of Arcadia, I was particularly impressed with its grandeur—a scene which no artist can reproduce. Having visited the principal health resorts of the West, including all the principal points along the Pacific coast from San Francisco to San Diego, California, my memory does not revert to one single place that excels in beauty the Valley of Arcadia. The next morning after a few purchases were made, I started for home. Being unable to reach home that day, I found a home for the night in the family of David Latham Esq., Edge Hill. After partaking of an excellent supper, I retired for the night. Two hours' drive the next morning brought me home.

Mrs. T. S. Lopez informed us that she and her daughter, Miss Henrietta, will in the near future start for Los Angeles, California. Having stopped at various hotels in Los Angeles, I would commend to any one who contemplates a visit to that place, the Grand Central.

Mr. Emmet Latham informs me that he and his brother will, when their schools close in December, attend school at Cross Roads. Mr. Marion Anderson, Goodwater, will also attend the same school. They will do well to attend; other young men would do well to attend.

The roads in this district are being cared for, under the supervision of John McMahon, Esq.

Sunday last the following persons visited us: Misses Julia and Ellen McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. John Latham and Mr. and Mrs. Houston Latham. Not long ago Mr. J. S. Jordan, of Aurora Springs, preached at the church house near here. The audience was quite small. I have been reliably informed that Dr. Walter Parker, Sr., will in the near future locate near here. We welcome you, Dr. P. I understand that Prof. Thomas Calahan will soon open a private school in the family of Mr. Bryan, near Belgrade. Rev. Billy Hawk has purchased a new sewing machine. Reports say that Jasper Anderson, Goodwater, has purchased the Turner farm; price paid, $700. P. Sept. 23, 1887.
